

Young Farmers and Ranchers Program California Farm Bureau Federation

Who are Young Farmers & Ranchers?

Farm Bureau Young Farmers and Ranchers are active agriculturists between the ages of 18 and 35 who are involved in production, banking, business, and many other areas of the farming and ranching way of life. Young Farmers and Ranchers develop leadership skills while volunteering time as active, vital members of the county Farm Bureau.

YF&R members have an opportunity to invest in personal and professional development, and gain valuable insights into all aspects of agriculture. Members learn how to promote the agriculture industry and gain a better understanding of key issues facing agriculture, all while building the skills to LEAD the industry into the future.

The following is a list of key programs, events and activities that the California Farm Bureau Federation Young Farmers and Ranchers program participates in annually. We encourage all local YF&R committees to consider participating in or attending these events.

CFBF YF&R Conference

Typically held at the end of February, this two-day leadership conference is attended by over 200 YF&Rs from across California and neighboring states. The conference is an opportunity to network with other YF&Rs, gain insight and ideas for building a better local YF&R program and receive updates on key issues and topics affecting the agriculture industry and young agriculturalists in California. A must attend event!!

Commodity Advisory Committees (CAC)

CACs are the beginning of the CFBF policy making process and are the backbone of the organization. These committees are made up of Farm Bureau members from across the state who weigh in on issues relating to their respect sectors. A seat is available on each committee for a YF&R representative. Nominations are accepted in late summer and the CFBF President names the committee members from the list of submitted nominees. This is a great way for YF&R members to take part in the policy process and begin the transition to mainstream county and state leadership.

CAC/Leaders Conference

With a few exceptions all CAC meetings are held in conjunction with the CAC/Leaders Conference each February. Committees meet on Monday and Wednesday with leaders having an opportunity arrive a day early or stay an extra day and take part in the Leaders Conference on Tuesday. Leaders Conference activities include general session speakers on current ag issues, an organizational update and networking with County Presidents, Board members, CFBF staff and industry insiders. In the afternoon, participants choose between break-out sessions and workshops or legislative visits at the Capitol. The event culminates with a legislative reception where attendees, agency representatives, elected officials and their staff comes together to visit with Farm Bureau members in a social setting.

CFBF Annual Meeting

YF&R participates in a variety of activities at the CFBF Annual Meeting (AM). A State Committee meeting is held Saturday of the Conference and is the final meeting for retiring committee members. Overall the meeting is an opportunity for YF&R to showcase some of the program's biggest events and activities.

Contests

Discussion Meet

Farm Bureau's strength depends on its members' ability to analyze agricultural issues and decide on solutions that best meet their needs. The competitive event is designed to simulate a committee meeting where discussion and active participation are expected from each committee member. Applicants build basic discussion skills, develop a keen understanding of important agricultural issues and explore how groups can pool knowledge to reach consensus and solve problems.

As a leadership training and self-improvement activity, the Discussion Meet experience will:

- Stimulate logical thinking and a desire for accurate information;
- Develop a concise and direct manner of speaking;
- Improve the ability to listen;
- Aid the participant in overcoming timidity or stage fright;
- Assist the individual in the practice of giving and receiving criticism in a helpful manner;
- Teach the value of compromise; and
- Develop leaders for effective problem solving through group discussion.

The Excellence in Agriculture Award

The Excellence in Agriculture Award is designed as an opportunity to recognize Young Farmers & Ranchers who do not derive the majority of their income from an owned agricultural operation. Award winners contribute and grow through their involvement in Farm Bureau and agriculture. Participants are judged on their involvement in agriculture, leadership ability, involvement and participation in Farm Bureau and other organizations (i.e., civic, service and community). State winners will be announced and recognized at the Annual Meeting, with the winner representing California at the AFBF Annual Conference.

This program is a partnership between the American Farm Bureau Federation and the Feeding America food banks. YF&Rs at the local, state and national level put on various events and takes part in activities to raise money and collect food to benefit Feeding America. The money raised, hours worked and amount of food collected is reported to CFBF, who in turn, reports the totals for the state to Feeding America. Awards are given at the AFBF YF&R Leadership Conference to the states with the highest totals in each category. Recently, California took home first place in hours worked (over 6000) and most impressively, in pound donated. California YF&Rs worked to provide over 10 million pounds of food to area food banks in support of those in need.
